that he was also known as Tottermen. When McCafferty got that name it wasn't hard for him to decipher into Totterman hard for him to decipher into Totterman the lead pencil scrawl on the paper. Sawyer told McCafferty that Totterman shipped with him from the Sailors' Union head-quarters at 37 South street, this city, on Nov. 10. It was at the Sailors' Union head-quarters that Cronin and Hennessy picked up the prisoner Totterman. Capt. Sawyer said also that Totterman had no confidents among the crew and that little was known about him by his shipmates.

MEIOS & CO'S CLERKS IDENTIFY THE MEIOS & CO.'S CLERKS IDENTIFY THE PRISONER

Then McCafferty went to Meigs & Co.'s store and found two clerks who remembered selling a pair of shoes and a sweater to a sailor on Saturday afternoon. The salesmen are L. B. Baldwin and Parker T. Silvernail. They came to this city yesterday afternoon and identified Totterman as the man who had bought the shoes and Baldwin said that he had sold Totterman the shoes and that he had sold lotterman the shoes and remembered it well, be-cause Totterman told him that he had been shipwrecked off Cape Cod and had been saved with two other men. Silvernail had sold the sweater. Both men were positive that Totterman was the man. OVERWHELMING EVIDENCE, SAYS GARVAN.

To a reporter Capt. Taylor said:

"I was captain of the barge Majestic of the Thames Towboat Company's fleet when Anderson was injured at New Haven last May. He fell off the roof of the cabin and struck on his head against the deck. I had him removed to the hospital and turned his effects over to the custom house authorities. Although he used the name of Anderson, he once told me when drunk that his name was Carl Neilson and that he changed his name as the result of a lodging house quarrel in South Australia. He never told what happened in the quarrel.

"He came to the Majestic from the British ship Andora, and his papers, issued by the British merchant service, give his name as Neilson. I understand he left the hospital in June, but had trouble with his head. in June, but had trouble with his head, and returned to stay until August. ### CLEVELAND TO SPEAK At McClellan Dinner-Hill, Parker and Corman Invited. Ex-President Grover Cleveland is to peak at a dinner to Mayor McClellan at Sherry's on Monday night, Jan. 4, to which David B. Hill, Alton B. Parker and Arthur Pue Gorman have been invited.

The dinner will be given to Mayor McClelan "by the citizens of New York," and 250 invited guests will attend. The arrangements are in charge of a committee of which Bourke Cockran is chairman. He will preside at the dinner. Other members of the committee are:

August Belmont, ex-Secretary of the reasury John G. Carlisle, John D. Crimmins, George Ehret, ex-Comptroller Ashbel P. Fitch, ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant, Hugh Kelly, Joseph C. Hendrix, ex-Comptroller Theodore W. Myers, M. Warley Platzek, Nathan Straus, J. Edward Simmons and Abraham R. Lawrence.

It was announced last night that Mr. Cleveland had responded by letter to the invitation, accepting it and accepting an invitation to speak. Replies have not been received from Senator Hill, Senator Gorman or Judge Parker.

With Cleveland, Parker, Gorman and Hill at table in a dinner to the new Democratic Mayor of New York, the politicians said last night it would be quite likely that the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency could be found at the first table. They said the public might look for speeches from these statesmen undertaking to outline what in their opinions should be the Democratic platform in the coming campaign.
"When that dinner is over we may find
McClellan uncovered as a candidate for Governor," said a Tammany leader last

"Yes, or for President," said another.

JAPAN FILES HER PROTEST.

POINTS OUT TERMS OBJECTED TO IN RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL.

Negotiations Resumed at Tokio-Government, Taking Precautions to Be Ready for Hostilities-War Insurance Rates Go Higher-Winter Campaign Possible.

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. Tokio, Dec. 21.-The Russo-Japanese negotiations, which were suspended in onsequence of the illness of Baron de Rosen, the Russian Minister here, were resumed this afternoon at the Russian legation, Baron de Rosen still being unable o go outdoors, although he is recovering. Baron Komura, Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, visited the Russian representative and handed to him Japan's answer to Russia's last proposal. He also pointed out verbally the passages in the Russian note which Japan regards as unsatisfactory and requested that they be reconsidered. It cannot be ascertained whether a time limit was fixed for Russia's reply, upon which, it is assumed, peace depends.

Meanwhile, the Government is keeping ransports in readiness, and other precautionary steps are being taken. Sixty military engineers have been sent to Corea to replace the civilian engineers who have hitherto had charge of the Japanese telegraphs there. It is officially stated that this is not a military measure.

A despatch from Seoul says that M. Pavloff, the Russian Minister, opposes the landing of Japanese sappers attached to the telegraph guards.

Owing to rumors that military trans ports are assembling at Hiroshima all Japanese stocks again fell sharply to-day. PARIS, Dec. 21 .- A despatch from Seoul says that, owing to several disturbances between Japanese and Coreans at Che mulpo and Masampho, there is talk of landing Japanese troops to keep order, but it is stated that if this is done it will be in agreement with the Russian Government.

BERLIN, Dec. 21.-The St. Petersburg correspondent of the National Zeitung, who is frequently well informed, telegraphs that official circles now for the first time admit that the situation is somewhat disquieting and that a winter campaign is possible. It is generally believed that peace or war will be decided upon in a fortnight. Russia will do her utmost to avoid declaring war in order to escape the odium of taking the initiative.

There was considerable depression on the bourses in Germany to-day. This was attributed to the war cloud.

LONDON, Dec. 21 .- The war risk rates at Lloyd's are higher now than at any other time during the Far Eastern crisis. Forty guineas per cent. for a three months policy was received to-day. The general feeling at Lloyd's is pessimistic. Japanese securities in the London market have fallen 11/2 to 2 points.

LONDON, Dec. 22.-The Nagasaki correspondent of the Telegraph reports that erious news has been received there from Tokio, indicating the approach of war. The Government has requisitioned all the dry docks in the country for the fleet and war vessels have already begun to take their turn in entering the docks, where they will be cleaned.

The correspondent adds that the Russians have started building a rampart around Port Arthur, including the new town. The old town has been ordered to be demolished.

MEN AND WOMEN AT FOREFATH-ERS DAY FEAST.

President Butler of Columbia Notes the Danger of the Times to Popular Liberty and Also Denounces the Weakness of Vote-Hunting Executives.

The New England Society of Brooklyn had its Forefathers' Day dinner at the Union League Club last night. The ice cream was molded into as many Plymouth Rocks as there were guests. Boston baked beans served in small brown pots followed he fish, and the sherbets came on in pumpkins which looked so real that they made everybody long for pie.

President Joseph A. Burr of the society apologized because succotash and Indian oudding had been left off the menu. It was the twenty-fourth annual dinner of the society, and 250 New Englanders were

CUBANS FIGHT CHURCH AWARD

ATTACK THE AGREEMENT MADE BY GEN. WOOD.

House Votes Against Making the $89,000 Annual Payment for Rental-Senate to Take Up the Question—Church Supporters Say the Agreement Was Legal.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

HA"ANA, Dec. 21.—The House of Representatives, by a vote of 40 to 8, has passed a bill suspending payments to the Catholic Church, which have been made by virtue of the agreements of Oct. 23, 1901; Jan. 11, 1902, and May 15, 1902, the nullification of which is asked until the question is definitely settled as to whether the agreements are legal.

Under the arrangement made by Gen. Wood and Archbishop Sbaretti the State pays the Church $89,000 annually for the rental of certain buildings occupied by the State. The principal buildings thus used are the custom house and the University of Havana. The contract gives the State the option to buy these buildings in 1906 for $1,500,000. There is also another contract involving Church property in Santiago, the amount there being $500,000.

The Church received this award after a Cuban committee reported that the property belonged to the Church under the concordat of 1852 between Spain and the Holy See. Before the intervention, Spain paid the Church in Cuba about $450,000 yearly for the support of worship. The only property that was returned to the Church was that which Spain actually held at the time of the intervention. The bulk of the property, which was previously seized, had been sold.

The opponents of the Church argued in the House of Representatives that the United States had no power to exercise acts of sovereignty in Cuba, and that Mgr. Sharetti could not represent the religious orders to which the property belonged because they had been suppressed. It was also asserted that if the House agreed to the appropriation of $89,000 it would thereby and Mgr. Sbaretti, which was illegal. The supporters of the Church argued that the contract was legally made by the Church and Gen. Wood, and that it was protected by the Constitution and the Platt amendment. The bill will now go to the Sanata. ment. The bill will now go to the Senate.
